

I am a whale and
here's my tale. No,
not my tail; it's a
story, you see.

This story is about me. Would you like to see?

I was lost and alone, away from my family, and away
from my home.

I called for my Mom. I called for the others too.

I heard them call back. I tried to break through.

Through all that kelp and through all that muck. It was not long before in it I became stuck!

I tried to back away
and set myself free.
Free from all the
muck that surrounded me. Before too long a big wave came
by. It pushed me to shore where I could easily dry.
